

Flakron Ademi

Full Stack Developer

CAREER OBJECTIVES

I am a creative and self-motivated full-stack developer. Programming has always been my passion. It's something that I never get tired of it. I love to dig into customer problems and solve them with modern technology. Currently, I am a 3rd year CST student at South East European University in Tetovo. I have done an internship for full stack development in iSolve where I got a lot of new knowledge about Angular, js, and nodejs. Since 6 years ago I have worked with WordPress which is one of the first jobs that I have worked in. Also, I have created and managed websites for local businesses and some portals.
